Code of Ethics

Our Code of Ethics is the glue that holds our company together and provides the basis for the respect and trust that are necessary in a knowledge sharing environment. These fundamental beliefs are essential to being able to communicate across the many barriers to communication that exist in our company. Our Code of Ethics has become an integral part of the effort to achieve and maintain knowledge sharing in our company. Therefore we pledge:

We at The Blank Company require a clear understanding of the basic principles by which we will operate our company. These are[1]:

- That the company is made up of individuals – each of whom has different capabilities and potentials – all of which are necessary to the success of the company.

- That we acknowledge that individuality by treating each other with dignity and respect – striving to maintain continuous and positive communications among all of us.
